SOUTH KENTUCKIAN

CHAS. M. MEACHAM, ----- Editor

HOPKINSVILLE, OCT. 2, 1883.

Congressman-elect Mayo, of Virginia, a few days ago, killed himself on account of political troubles.

The Massachusetts Greenbackers have endorsed Gov. Butler for re-election and will have no candidate of their own.

A sitting monument to President Zachary Taylor, who died thirty-three years ago, was unveiled at Louisville a few days ago.

Ellis Craft will be hung October 12th, and he wants the execution to be public so he can make a farewell speech to the crowd.

Mr. Walter P. Emerson has succeeded Col. C. E. Kincaid as Kentucky news editor of the Courier-Journal. He is one of the brightest young journalists in Louisville.

We are frequently asked who will be the Democratic nominee for the Presidency next year. It would not be wise or proper for us to tell at this time, and besides the papers want something to speculate about.

The smallest steam engine ever made is among the exhibits in the Southern Exposition. It stands on a gold dollar and can be covered with a thimble, and three drops of water furnishes the steam necessary to run it. It is valued at $25,000 and is not for sale.

Lexington journalists should post their premises with "no shooting or shooting allowed" boards, as there are some people who don't seem to understand that the game law is still in force. An unknown man, armed with a shot gun, hunted the city last week for a reporter named W. A. Smith, but failed to find him.

Haw cotton from a field in Arkansas, five hundred miles away, was brought to the Louisville Exposition last week, and made into a suit of clothes and presented by Gov. Knott to Gov. Berry, of Arkansas, within forty-eight hours from the time it was picked.

George Dittos couldn't stand the gastronomic strain of the recent press banquet at Louisville, and went home sick. It is not often that a hungry editor is led up to a fresh trough, and when he is he never knows when he has enough unless some friend tells him where to draw the line.

Gov. B. F. Butler was unanimously re-nominated for Governor by the Massachusetts Democrats last week in convention assembled. As he has also been endorsed by the Greenbackers, there is but little doubt of his election, although he is opposed by Geo. D. Robinson, the strongest Republican in the State.

Mr. Thos. R. Woods, son of Dr. J. D. Woods, local editor of the Bowling Green Semi-Weekly Gazette, died last Wednesday of typhoid fever. Mr. Woods was one of the brightest young men in the State, and gave promise of attaining distinction in his profession. He had just about reached his twenty-first year. Dr. Woods has the sympathies of his brethren of the press, for the loss of such a son is indeed a sore affliction.

Capt. Sheldon evicted the Register's office on the 25th inst., after writing a card explaining his action. He says he wanted to force Cecil to proceed against him in order to expose the secret bargains made between them, and that as Jas. Norvel has brought a suit that will serve that purpose he no longer has a motive for retaining the office. Capt. Sheldon has been severely censured by the state press without stigma except, so far as we have seen, Cecil is still quite sick and unable to assume control of the office, but his deputies have taken charge of it.

The second annual fair of the Scott county Tobacco Association will be held at Georgetown, Ky., Saturday Dec. 1, 1883. $125 in premiums will be awarded. For the benefit of the tobacco raisers of this county and see them we publish the list of premiums.

CLASS B.

Best sample, 5 pounds, cutting leaf, white tobacco, raised in Kentucky, first premium by Bodman Leaf Tobacco Warehouse, Cincinnati, O. $50.00 Second premium (by Assoc.) 25.00 Third premium (by Assoc.) 10.00

CLASS C.

Best sample, two and a half pounds, white tobacco, raised in Scott county, Ky., first premium, for cutting leaf, by Enterprise Leaf Tobacco Warehouse, Louisville, Ky. $25.00 Second premium, for cutting leaf, by Association, ..... 15.00

Third premium, for cutting leaf, by K. Stone, manufacturer, Georgetown, Georgetown, Ky., one box Minn. S. ..... 25.00 Fifth premium, for filling leaf, by Association, ..... 15.00 Second premium, for filling leaf, by Association, ..... 10.00

Our thanks are due Mr. Frank M. Suaveley, the Secretary, for a sum-

The Muhlenburg Echo has established an answers to correspondents' column which is an interesting feature of that newsy paper. In reply to a question, the editor states that Gov. Knott is the 21st Governor of Kentucky. This is a mistake. Gov. Knott's is the 21st gubernatorial term but he is the 27th Governor. Two Governors (Shelby and Garrard) served each two terms. Four Governors died in office and three resigned. Five Lieutenant Governors became Governors to fill vacancies and two of them were afterwards elected Governor, one of them, Gov. Leslie, being his own successor. Following are their names: Isaac Shelby, Jas. Garrard, Christopher Greenup, Charles Scott, Geo. Madison, Gabriel Stanger, John Adair, Joseph Desha, Thos. Metcalf, Jno. Breathitt, Jas. T. Morehead, Jas. Clark, Chas. A. Wickliffe, Robt. P. Letech, Wm. Owlesley, Jno. J. Crittenton, Jno. L. Helm, Lazarus W. Powell, Chas. S. Morehead, Jeremiah Magoffin, Jas. F. Robinson, Thos. E. Bramlette, Jno. W. Steppen, P. H. Lester, Jas. B. McCrory, Luke P. Blackburn, J. Proctor Knott.

It is said that J. I. Case, the owner of the now famous Jay-eye-see, who died the fastest trotting mare on record a few days ago, was so elated when the result was announced that he ran into the grand stand and kissed his wife twice. If 2:10½ would make him kiss his own wife what score would it take to make him kiss some other man's wife? Who will figure it out?

The Ohio election comes off next Tuesday. The Democrats have a fair chance to win, but have no very good reasons for claiming the victory. Local dissensions in Cincinnati will weaken the state ticket very much, but may not injure it enough to cause a party defeat.

The talk of Ben Butler as a Democratic candidate for the Presidency is the sheerest nonsense. Ben is a recent convert and must "arry a while in Jericho till his beard grows" before he attempts to run the party into which he has merely been taken on trial.

In 1850 there were 50 murders committed in Kentucky. In 1882 there were 66. Up to August 15 this year, there were 109. This increase of crime is largely due to the abuse of the pardoning power and the wholesale releasing of criminals by the late Governor, Luke P. Blackburn.

Charlie Overhiser, of Los Angeles, California, who was for five years a competitor in the South Kentucky office, has our thanks for copies of California dailies.

The last issue of the State Sentinel came out printed on colored poster paper. Guess Cannon was determined to have at least one copy of his paper red.

KENTUCKY KNOWLEDGE.

The Elkhorn Register needs a proof-reader.

There are very few houses for rent in Glasgow.

The editor of the Glasgow Times is just up from a spell of fever,

Burglars robbed three houses in Seabrook city one night last week.

Mr. R. P. Elliott is now assistant editor of the Henderson Sentinel.

There are 379 pupils in the white public schools of Bowling Green.

Renfrew Adams, of Slanahanville, Webster county, was drowned while swimming in Deer creek.

Henry Pruitt shot and killed Henry Dolaby near Henderson last week. They were brother-in-laws.

Jas. A. Weston, a clerk in the Opera Hotel, at Louisville, took his life by swallowing poison, last week.

Webster county is still overrun with horse thieves. Peter Overby had a fine mare stolen last week.

Mrs. Gov. Knott has employed Aunt Francis Kersey, of Bowling Green, as housekeeper in the Executive Mansion.

Col. H. S. Strader, of Lexington, shot and killed a colored employee, named Foster, who was neiging strangely about his stables.

The three prisoners in the Webster county jail made an unsuccessful attempt to escape last week by sawing out with a saw handed through the window to them. They were detected by the jailer when the work was half done.

Company A of the First Kentucky Confederate Cavalry hold a reunion to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the battle of Chickamauga, in Daviess county last week. A special invitation was extended to ex-Federal soldiers.

F. J. Cheever & Co., proprietors of Hall's Catarrh Cure, offer $100 reward for any case of Calarach that can't be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sold by Gish & Garner.

The National Colored Convention at Louisville last week was a representative body and largely attended.

Fred Douglass was made chairman and delivered an address. The Convention refused to endorse Arthur and the Republican party upon the grounds that it was not a political gathering and had met to act independently.

METHODIST MINISTERS.

The Louisville Conference in this city last week

The 38th annual session of the Louisville Conference of the M. E. Church South met at the Methodist church in this city Wednesday Sept. 26th with over one hundred members present. John J. Tigert was elected Secretary. The various committees were then appointed after which Dr. L. A. Young, of Nashville, addressed the Conference relative to the Centenary of Methodism which occurs next year. The Secretary then read some reports and the following list of superannuated ministers was called: W. W. Mann, W. F. Harwell, W. C. slate, A. C. Dewitt, J. D. Barnett, Geo. W. Crumbaugh, A. A. Morrison, T. M. Penick, D. N. Hobbs, M. N. Lasley, Jas. Moore, Jas. Hamline, and Thos. Bottomley.

Morning afternoon and evening sessions were held throughout the week at which the routine business of the Conference was disposed of and reports of the various committees received, discussed and acted on.

When the question "who remain on trial?" was called the names of W. L. Birrell, Pitt C. Duvall, Schuyler G. Boyd, Daudridge F. Walton and Robt. J. Waits were called and continued on trial.

C. R. Crowe, Jas. F. Chandler, Jeremiah T. Cherry, Leonard M. Russell, Jesse P. Murrell, John E. King, Jas. F. Thrasher, and Wm. H. Howell were received on trial.

The various pulpits of the city were filled by members of the Conference on Sunday.

On Monday the Conference proceeded to the examination of the elders. J. F. Belford, P. T. Hardison, R. E. Hayes, Jas. A. Lewis, J. C. Peirce, L. W. Emerson, E. W. Bottomly, J. P. Goodson, J. H. Gillon, J. P. Hogard and Vol. P. Thomas, were reported and their characters were passed.

H. B. McCown was reported as not having gone to his work last year. He made a statement and retired and the Conference considered his case. A plan of ill health was made and his character was passed and the case referred to the proper committee. Dr. H. C. Morrison, W. C. Hayes, R. Y. Thomas, J. C. Brandon, E. E. Pace, W. T. Reid, J. L. Ewington, W. F. Alexander, S. L. Loveland, D. L. Colle, V. Elgin, W. C. Brandon, G. F. Cummins, J. A. Love, E. R. Harrison, W. L. Corbin, L. B. Davison, J. W. Bowen, and J. V. Gwinne reported and their characters were passed.

The statistical committee reported the following figures: No. of members 33,193; Infants baptized, 771; adults baptized 1,470; Sunday schools, 263; S. S. teachers 172; S. S. scholars, 13,737; raised for superannuated preachers, $2,072; raised for missions, $7,400. No. of ministers, 125. This covers the work of the Conference up to Monday at noon. The residue is chiefly committee reports. The appointments for the year will not be announced until today, after which the Conference will adjourn.

The last issue of the State Sentinel came out printed on colored poster paper. Guess Cannon was determined to have at least one copy of his paper red.

"The Democracy of Cincinnati are fighting like cats." Well, if the results will be like those of cat fights, the party will be largely increased in the coming election over there.—Ditto.

Geo. Andrew Hickenlooper has sued the Cincinnati News Journal for $10,000 libel. The News Journal must have spelled his name wrong. That will make a fighting man mad every time.—Bowling Green Gazette.

The scarcity of two dollar bills is supposed to be due to the approach of election day in Ohio. The two-dollar bill as naturally drifts toward an Ohio election as a mule does toward a stop-barrel.—Kentucky Democrat.

Professor Proctor has written a long article on the chances in poker. If the professor should come to this state he would find many educated men who would be willing to test his knowledge of the game and who would teach him far more about it than he has taught the public.—Arkansas Traveler.

Prof. Swift, Director of the Warner Observatory, Rochester, N. Y., announces that he has discovered a new comet, and that "now there are two comets in the same field." The fact that both are in the same field and running like blazes suggests the idea that they must be running for some office.—State Journal.

The correct fall style for dudes will be as follows:

Age-green pantaloons, skin tight an ochre-color overcoat a little above the knees, a sore-throat dickey, tooth-picks and peach-blown colored high hat and mashed-strawberry gloves, an eyeglass attached to a silk cord and a cane with a crescent-shaped head.—Philadelphia News.

A minister, upon being invited to preach in a prohibition district of Arkansas, said: "My hearers, I understand that you have a three-mile law in this state, making it a fine to sell or give away whisky within three miles of a church or school-house. As I have come here with the intention of preaching to the men as well as women, I'll state that there is a jing of whisky under that log out there. Fire up, gentlemen, and let's get to business"—Arkansas Traveler.

Married, at the home of the bride-father, in this country, last Wednesday evening, Mr. Jno. Smith Nickell of Ezel, to Miss Kate Sample, of Blackwater.

Into the heap of congratulations and well-wishes of hosts of friends we strew our bouquet of choicest blessings in wishing unlimited happiness and prosperity to a groom so sterling and a bride so winsome. (And hope for the groom's sake that none of the "Nickells" will be counterfeited.—Dedicated by the composer.)

We heard a good thing lately about the dude, which is worth telling. A young swain, about to depart for the city, asked his country sweetheart what he should bring her, whereupon she declared that nothing but a dude would satisfy her. He then said if he should bring her a French dude, to which she demurred. He then suggested a German dude, and she declined most emphatically. He then said, "Mariah, what kind of a dude shall I bring you?" And she said, "A Yankee-Dude—'ill-do'."—Elizabeth Town News.

Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat heartily of high-spirited food, rich pies, cake, etc., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indulgence, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and, perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house.

A Dream? Or a Vision?

On the night of the Auburn fire, Mrs. Geo. W. Wilson, was spending the night with her sister-in-law, Mrs. A. F. Coghill, Meers, Wilson and Coghill both being away from home. The ladies retired about 9 o'clock, and soon went to sleep. In a short time Mrs. Wilson awoke Mrs. Coghill and told her of a most vivid dream she had just had. She said, that she had dreamed that she saw a strange man in the back room of Adams' store with a box of shavings; set them afire with a match. She had awoke with a start and a dream had made such an impression on her that she could not at once get to sleep again. After telling Mrs. Coghill about it and being laughed at, they both went to sleep. Mrs. Wilson immediately dreamed exactly the same dream again, it this time, being more vivid than before. She awoke from sleep by the ery of fire and awoke to find the town in flames, the fire having actually broken out in the back room of Adams' store, and as nearly as can be judged, at the indentent time at which her dream was taking place. Mrs. Wilson is a most reputable, christian lady, and there can be no doubt of the truth of her statements. Her husband's store was burned.

Now the question is "what is a dream? or a vision?"

Our thanks are due Mr. Frank M. Nealey, the Surety, for a company of the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic Asylum. It was so "understood" by

A Burlington Society Note.

Miss Ilonora Daubigne has just completed a portrait of her father in oil. It would have looked more like the old gentleman, and would have smelled infinitely more like him, had she worked the portrait in whisky. Still as a work of art, it is a very valuable painting. Thirteen dollars worth of tube colors were used in its construction, and the frame alone cost $4. The hair worn on Mr. Daubigne's cheek is omitted in the portrait, and the right ear, which was cut off in a fight down at the red bridge ten years ago, has been restored by the magical touch of the accomplished artist. The nose of the subject, also, has been toned down being treated in pale lakes, instead of vermilion. To get at the roundness, the tout ensemble, the immortal intellectual chiaro-oscuro of Daubigne's nose, it would have to be treated in the lake of bromstone, if there is such a color. As a work of art, however, the portrait is one of which our city may well be proud. It can be recognized by a glance at the name of the subject, which was neatly lettered on the frame by Stephader, the sign painter [Hawkeye].

BATHING IN SALT LAKE.—In the water of Salt Lake a bather can lie on the surface of the water without any exertion whatever, or by passing a towel under his knees and holding the two ends he can remain in any depth of water kneeling, with the head and shoulders out of the water, or by shifting it under the soles of the feet he can sit on the water. The one exertion, in fact, is one's balance; now whatever is to keep afloat. The only danger, therefore, arises from choking by accidentally swallowing some of the water, for the strength of the brine is intense that the muscles of the throat are convulsed, and strangulation ensues. All the same, I have myself dived several times into Salt Lake, and have survived.—[Harper's].

CHAPTER I.
"I was taken sick yesterday with bilious fever."

"My doctor pronounced me cured, but I got sick again, with terrible pains in my back and sides, and I got so bad I could not move!"

I shrunk up, too, to 120 lb. I had been dieting for my liver, but did my surgeon, I did not expect to live more than three months. I began to use Hop Bitters. Directly my appetite turned, my pain left me, my entire system seemed renewed; not by magic, but by using several bottles I am not only as sound as a serpent, but weigh more than I did before. To Hop Bitters I owe it all. "I'm well again," I said to my doctor, "and let's get to business!"
